

INVITATION

COMENIUS
UNIVERSITY
BRATISLAVA

Univ.-Prof. Dr. med. Joachim Neumann

Born in 1957, he studied pharmacy at the University of Passau and the University of Munich. Later, he also studied medicine in Bochum and Hamburg. He held a professor position at the WWU University of Münster and currently works at Martin Luther University Halle-Wittenberg.

Professor Neumann has dedicated his scientific career to research the field of experimental pharmacology with a focus on heart damage and heart failure and the development of new molecules for the treatment of heart diseases.

In 1992, he began cooperating with the Faculty of Pharmacy of Comenius University Bratislava in this area. This cooperation resulted in growing renown of a group of Slovak researchers with whom he collaborated, whose research careers he helped to start, and who benefitted from the research guidance and education in his laboratories.

His intensive research resulted in more than 200 original papers in renowned high-impact journals, more than 30 review papers, and monographs, with over 5000 citations and an H-index of over 40 (excluding self-citations).
